

MyCareerCloset

For community and technical school learners, small details—professional appearance, clear communication and targeted preparation—can dramatically shape hiring outcomes.

Helping Students Show Up Ready

Many students know they need to look professional for interviews, internships, and career events, but they may not know what to wear. Professional clothing can also be expensive or hard to access, especially for commuter, part-time, and non-traditional students. For colleges, campus career closets can be difficult to keep stocked, organized, and inclusive of all sizes, styles, and needs.

Professional Clothing and Guidance, Made Easier

MyCareerCloset helps students get ready for interviews, internships, career fairs, and other professional opportunities by making it easier to access workplace-ready clothing, one-on-one styling guidance, and career-readiness resources.

Support Students Can Use Right Away

Students get practical support that helps them feel prepared and confident when it is time to meet employers. MyCareerCloset provides students with:

- One-on-one styling help with a stylist to talk through what to wear for interviews, internships, networking events, and different types of jobs

- Outfits shipped directly to students selected for their needs, sizes, preferences, and professional goals
- Online career-readiness resources accessible at anytime, including support for professional dress, communication, and preparation

Flexible Solution for Community Colleges

- Removes a common barrier so students can access professional clothing without having to pay full retail prices or find transportation to a campus closet.
- Supports more students: with a wider range of sizes, fits, and styles than many donation-based closets can provide.
- Reduces staff workload by managing all the logistics, including student questions and support, so campus teams can focus on advising and employer engagement.
- Works with existing services as a way to offer clothing support where a campus closet is not available.

More Confidence. More Access. More Opportunity.

MyCareerCloset helps students show up prepared for interviews, internships, career fairs and workplace experiences. By removing one common barrier to career readiness, schools can help students feel more confident and focus on presenting their skills, experience and goals.

The service also helps colleges expand support without adding more work for staff. It can reach students who may not use a campus closet, fill gaps in sizes and styles, and provide a consistent clothing-support option that reflects the needs of a wide range of students.
